WELCOME BACK, MAYFAM!

Welcome to our first iteration of Mayfest's Alumni Newsletter! We're going to be sending out Dillo updates at the beginning of each quarter, so you guys can stay better connected to the Mayfam after graduating :,)

This year, we're so excited to produce the 53rd Dillo Day, which will take place on May 17, 2025! Tickets are available until May 15, so grab one while you still can LINK HERE 👀

Dillo has also evolved over the years, with us now having two stages featuring world-renowned talent: The Main Stage, which hosts our student openers and Mayfest's artist lineups, and the FMO Second Stage, featuring lineups curated by FMO to promote and uplift Black artists.

Right next to our two stages, we have the Dillo village — a lakefill filled with multiple food trucks, branded experiences from both local and international sponsors, a photo-op entrance, and plenty of other activities!

🚨 Hold on, what's this year's festival theme?

This year, our theme is Carnival Dillo! Think cute clowns, that one episode from Euphoria, and exhilarating festivities to keep you amused and entertained. We rolled out our theme announcement through Instagram graphics, interactive reels, a dining hall collaboration featuring delicious carnival foods, and a mini merchandise drop.

If you want to check out this year's line of Dillo Day merchandise (which features stylish hats, hoodies, and shirts to add carnival flair to your closet), browse through the collection here: https://store.dilloday.com/.

🎉 Alumni Takeover on Dillo Weekend!

👩‍💼 Alumni Highlight

Speaking of talented alumni — each newsletter, we're also going to highlight a different Mayfest alum, starting off with Nicole Tank!

Nicole graduated in 2022 with a Communication Studies and Political Science degree, 2023 with a MS in Leadership for Creative Enterprises. On Mayfest, she was on Gen Board her first year, Promo her second, Promo Exec her third year, and was Mayfest co-chair her fourth year.

We asked her a few questions about her career and experience on Mayfest:

What are you up to now?
"I currently work in entertainment marketing with a focus on LBE (location-based entertainment) clients. Before my current job, I spent a year working in the Music Tour Marketing department at UTA, and I also worked on marketing for Riot Fest 2024.

What was your Mayfest / Dillo memory?
"Watching Dominic Fike's set at Dillo 50 and our final meetings on the lakefill the morning of my last Dillo Day (and taking photos with everyone). Honorable mention goes to Dominic Fike's artist announcement at that year's Battle of the Bands."

How did Mayfest help you in other areas of your life or career?
"Mayfest is unquestionably the #1 experience that helped me get to where I am today. It was the first thing on my resume and the experience that I spent the most time talking about in my interviews for my first jobs/internships. Being a part of Mayfest was the best way I could show potential employers that I was committed to working in entertainment. When I got to UTA, I felt like I had an advantage since I had firsthand experience with executing live music events. Outside of the music industry, Mayfest helped me to build project management, communication, leadership, and organizational skills that I'll use for the rest of my career, regardless of what industry."

Alumni donations contribute to Dillo Day's journey in becoming even more magical each year —whether it's through booking bigger artists, adding additional activities on the lakefill, or supporting current Mayfest members while they crew Dillo.
